

Galina Jeffrey

Executive Coach – Boston

Galina provides executive coaching for corporate leaders with a particular focus on leaders taking on global responsibility and high potential women. Galina draws on her varied experience as a seasoned line executive as well as a versatile talent development practitioner. Galina has held significant roles in major corporations and has lived and worked domestically and internationally.

As senior leader in a well-regarded consulting firm, The Forum Corporation, she worked with Fortune 500 companies around the globe. Galina developed and led the APAC market for Forum for nine years based in Hong Kong. Past roles with Forum include Regional Management and senior management oversight for support functions such as Research and Capability Development, Marketing/PR, HR, project resourcing, and the Forum variable workforce.

Among her key clients were The Department of Homeland Security, Standard Chartered Bank, Bank of America, Citibank, DuPont, Sealand, Jardine Pacific Limited, Deloitte & Touche, Leo Burnett, Merrill Lynch, American Express, Ameriprise, BCBS, Aetna, Carlson WagonLit, and many others. Prior to joining Forum, Galina was a Senior Vice President at BayBanks in Boston, where she managed the HR function, built the training function, and directed overall staff planning and development. She has also held training and product development roles at Citibank.

Fluent in Russian, Galina earned her Bachelor of Arts in Russian Studies and Education from Fordham University; she has done graduate work in adult education and organizational development at Fordham University and the University of Southern California.

She is certified by the Behavioral Coaching Institute as a Master Executive Coach and is certified by Neuro Business Group in the application of Neuroscience for business coaching. She is also certified in a variety of assessment tools such as the Center for Creative Leadership suite of assessments, Hogan Assessment series, LEA, PDI, and a number of others. She is a member of The Boston Club and serves on the Mentoring Committee and is also a member of ISA (the Learning Providers Association) and the International Coach Federation. Originally from Europe, Galina resides in the Boston area with her husband and enjoys travel, the outdoors, dining with friends, reading, and theatre.
