

Carol Salloway

Executive Coach & Facilitator – Boston

For more than 25 years, Carol has worked side by side with leaders from a broad range of industries as they confront leadership challenges. As an executive coach, she is known for her warm, insightful, and direct approach which enables her clients to get clear on what they want, what gets in their way, and what they can do to enhance their leadership brand and influence to produce impressive results.

Carol has coached hundreds of leaders: smart high performing individuals who are interested in continuing their leadership growth. Recent clients include Partners Healthcare, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, PTC, Amazon Robotics, MKS, Draper, Biogen, Alkermes, ImmunoGen, The Broad Institute, the Boston Foundation, and Harvard Business School.

Carol's previous line management experience and extensive management consulting background enable her to bring a deep understanding of organizational and business dynamics to her coaching work.

Carol received her MBA from Boston University and BA in Psychology from Simmons College. She completed her professional coaching certification with New Ventures West. She serves as a Master Coach Supervisor in the Graduate College of Executive Coaching at William James College. She also serves as an Executive Coach in various executive education programs at Harvard Business School and other major institutions.

Carol is certified to use many of the best-in-class 360° and emotional intelligence assessment instruments, including The Leadership Versatility Index 360, Benchmarks for Managers, the Leadership Effectiveness Analysis (LVI), the EQ Profile, and the Team Emotional Intelligence Assessment. Carol also is certified to use a variety of personality instruments such as The Hogan, Myers-Briggs, and the NeuroColor Personality Assessment.

She has built a unique blend of skills, models, and assessment tools, leveraging the best of psychology, emotional intelligence, and neuroscience. She helps make the client's invisible beliefs and patterns visible. They see more choices in how they respond to situations and can engage more effectively.

Carol is committed to giving back to social entrepreneurs. She serves as an Executive Coach in the Gratitude Network, supporting cutting-edge social entrepreneurs who are solving our greatest problems related to children and education. She is also committed to her own continued personal development and is enrolled in an intensive program called Radical Aliveness.
